

Press Release

The Open and East Kent Business

On 7th February 2020, Dover District Chamber of Commerce invited its members to enjoy the opportunities presented by the return of The Open to Sandwich in July 2020.

Chamber Chief Executive David Foley introduced Dan Bones of The R&A who outlined the history, operations and enduring legacy of the world's first golf major which will be hosted at Royal St. George's Golf Club for the fifteenth time.

With a projected economic impact in East Kent of more than £30 million and over 200,000 visitors anticipated to attend, The 149th Open Championship is expected to provide a major boost to the local economy.

Famous names

Chamber members were enthralled by Dan's brilliant presentation and were delighted to have their photograph taken next to the famous Claret Jug on its first outing in East Kent since 2011. Names inscribed on the trophy include Seve Ballesteros, Nick Faldo, Tiger Woods, Jack Nicklaus and Tom Watson.

The Championship which will take place from 12th to 19th July 2020 will bring together the world's best golfers, but the stimulus to local traders has already begun. It is not only the accommodation and catering establishments which stand to increase their turnover and margins, but nearly every sector of East Kent business can take advantage of the increased spending in the months leading up to the first practice day of Sunday 12th July 2020.

East Kent business leaders

Around 100 business leaders in the audience were joined by senior figures from top education providers the EKC Group, Broadstairs College, Canterbury Christ Church University and Dover Grammar School for Girls who were keen to promote their links to East Kent employers and hear how The R&A is firmly committed to helping students and all young people benefit from this world-class event.

All registered Chamber members will receive regular updates and contact details relating to the opportunities available.
